

number of people had gathered round the inn, and manifesto every disposition to proceed to some excess. Most of tin*; had in their hands five-franc pieces, in order to rem^ni/i* tl lOmpere by his likeness on the 1*0111. Napoleon, whit hn passed two nights without sleep, was in a hit!- room adjoiuin the kitchen, when he had fallen into a .slumber, reclining n the. shoulder of his *ralcf /• rhnnibri:* lit a inoiit'iit nl'dejei'tiij hn had said, ^a I now ninoune tin* political world forever, shall he»nc*»iV)rth feel no interest itUait anything that, may ha| pen. At Porto-Fcjrrajo 1 may 1»* happy - more happy than have ever been ! No!---if the crown of Murope were mn offered to me I would not aerepi it I will devote myself t seienci*. I w'as ri^ht never tu esteem maitkiitd! Hut Fram? and the French people — what ingratitude! I am di.s^u.stci with aiiihitioii, and I wisli to ride n«» lon^T ! **

When the moment for departure arriv««i it was propose that he should put on the {rcat-ciat ;utii fur nip of (ieucra Kohler, u»<l that hi should ^^{ti} ^{ll} ^f ^{fi} ^^{lf} em-ria^c of the AUH trian (/ommiHsioner. Tlu* Emperor, thu.s tlih^uisiMi, left flu inn of La (Julade, passing betwei«u two HI«»»H ot" <H| N*etati»rH On turning the walls of Aix Xupoleo»i had again the iiorfli cation to hear tin* eries of  l)«»»\vn with tit*¹ tyrant! I>owi with Nicolas?" and these v«»»eiferati«»ii*s ri'mtnitciid at UuMiiH ta,ne.i* of a cjuarter of a league from tin* town.

Bonaparte, dispirited by these suanifeNtatioitH of hut reel said, in a torn* of mingled grief HIM! cMifttempt, "Them Provcnjalh are the mime furious hruwlrrs tliiit tlie.y u«c«l t«, IM*. Tlic*y cHiiitnitti*«l frightful at th e«»»»iniience mr»nt of the Revolution. Kightneu yt»arn «W> ' <atim to llh^ part of the country with scum thouHuml mt*ii to deliver tun Royalintn who were to lw handed, Tl»»»Ir c*rinu* having worn tliR white nockadt*. 1 Havtnt thum ; but it not witle out difficulty that I rentntect them from lli« hundn of their assailants; and now, you nee, they rextimt* thi* against those who refuse to wear the wliiti* corkutta." At alnnit a league from Aix the

Ettipernr nitit IIIK n*liim* found. liorueH and an «*«<tort of geiidantierln to tiimdiiet flit'in to tint ch&teau of Luc.